

Prince IS DOING IT IN HARTFORD.

Then again so are Dave Matthews, Ozzy, Roberta Flack, Tim McGraw, Sarah McLachlan, Norah Jones, Robert Rauschenberg and My Fair Lady. At the Talcott Mountain Music Festival, the Hartford Symphony Orchestra is doing it with the sounds of the Beatles and international jazz artists are doing it with 40,000 music lovers in the park. If that's not enough, get it done with bluegrass and barbecue at the Podunk Bluegrass Music Festival or up and down the river on the Lady Katharine or on dragon boats.

Others doing Hartford in 2004: George Gershwin's music at Hartford Stage, The Producers at The Bushnell Center for the Performing Arts, Buick Championship's pro golfers, West Indian and Puerto Rican Day paraders, Papo Vasquez and his Pirate Troubadours, Fantasia Barrino and the American Idols, Wynton Marsalis and his quartet, Blood, Sweat & Tears with David Clayton-Thomas, and 40 local bands competing in the Hartford Advocate's Grand Band Slam. Miguel Luciano will do it at Real Art Ways, the Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art does it with art explorers on Saturday mornings, Bushnell Park does it with jazz musicians on Monday nights and Elizabeth Park prefers it with roses and art on the weekends. Look it up at hartford.com.
